

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT

March 23rd, 2022 | Arlington, TX

Drew Christman Transitions to CEO of Providence Title

Drew is an accomplished business, real estate, and litigation attorney with 23-years' experience. Drew began his career as a Deputy Attorney General in Alabama later becoming partner in the litigation firm, Gidiere, Hinton, Herndon & Christman in 2005. In 2009, Drew returned to his home state of Texas and founded what is now Christman Attorneys, PLLC as its CEO and President. Drew has represented commercial real estate developers for well over a decade in multi-million dollar real estate development transactions, and has served as general counsel to corporations and non-profit organizations on a national scale. Drew and his firm have been voted Best Business Attorney and Best Business Law Firm in Denton County in 2018, 2019, 2020, and 2021. Drew has extensive experience in corporate formations, mergers, acquisitions, and operations, helping companies of various sizes to establish sound governance and effective business practices. Christman Attorneys will merge with Ramsey & Foster and become the new full-service law firm of Christman, Ramsey & Foster, PC.

Drew is a graduate of Texas A&M University (1996) with a Bachelor of Arts in Speech Communications. Drew graduated cum laude from Regent Law School in Virginia Beach, VA, in 1999. "I believe in George Washington's philosophy of leadership – listen, learn, then lead. Our only hope to becoming the culture to which we aspire is to become good listeners."

As one of Providence's newest shareholders, Drew will join the executive leadership team bringing his many years of business experience and leadership. Drew's vision for growth, high employee satisfaction, and teamwork is tailored to advance the culture priorities of Providence while improving its revenue, operations, governance, and expansion. Favoring the small business simplicity of customer service and employee relations, Drew's philosophy of leadership and operations fits neatly with the legacy Dan Foster has built at Providence Title. Please join us in welcoming Drew Christman to the leadership team.
